FUNDING GIVEN 2024 / 2025

A Landmark Year for Giving

In 2025, a landmark year for giving, we reached a historic milestone by distributing £2,152,005, our highest annual total ever and a 42% increase over 2024. Despite a strategic pause on main programmes to transition to a streamlined data system, we awarded £637,865 more than the previous year across South Yorkshire and the UK. This resulted in a 79.2% success rate for applications (representing the proportion of applications fully paid relative to those rejected), bringing our 40-year impact to a grand total of £40 million awarded to vital causes.

The Success Rate only compares applications that were fully funded against those that were rejected. The Approval Rate is broader, comparing funded applications against every single submission received. We make this distinction because many applications are never finished, are missing documents, or are withdrawn prior to assessment.

In late 2025, we paused our main community and small grant programmes (up to £5,000 and £1,000) to transition to a new data and application system. Consequently, applications received after 30th September 2025 were processed during our next application window in early 2026. This approach resulted in a lower volume of applications overall, but a significantly higher amount of funding awarded per successful project. Record funding in Sheffield was driven by an increase in local donors investing in the region. This led to more Sheffield-specific programmes, as many donors topped up their funds and shifted from small, single-year grants to larger, multi-year funding programmes. In other regions, both the volume of applications and the total funding distributed are expected to rise next year following the delayed application window for our main grant programmes.

40 Years, £40 Million

Sheffield saw a record 59.6% increase in funding (£506,537 increase) in 2025 compared to 2024. This was driven by an increase in local donors investing in the region. This was due to the creation of more Sheffield-specific programmes, many regional donors topping up their funds and a shift from small, single-year grants to larger, multi-year funding programmes. These specific-regional programmes did not fall within the pause on our main grants programmes. Sheffield also saw a 4.8% decrease in withdrawn applications, which fell from 20.2% in 2024 to 15.4% in 2025. During the same period, the rate of successful applications remained relatively stable, dipping by only 1.1%.
